Kickin’ Your Ass is a card game where you try to build your Ass, while kicking other players’ Asses. It’s great to play with friends and (somewhat grownup) family gatherings. It’s portable and great to take with you on trips, or to parties. The rules are simple to learn and fun to master.

You try to collect each Piece O’ Ass you can get your hands on. Once you have enough Pieces O’ Ass to complete your Ass, you win. But along the way, other players are trying to kick your Ass. This of course results in you losing your Ass, or at least some of it. We’re kind of riffing on a theme here.
